

Winegrower's Recommendation

"FINE WINES FROM FRANCONIA" – that's what DIVINO has represented for over three generations. It all started in the 1950s: Just in time with the economic boom, DIVINO has emerged as a winegrower cooperative of Franconian Nordheim on Main. Thus, DIVINO was the pioneer for Franconian quality wine production. After joining the Thüngersheim cooperative in 2012, DIVINO is now the second largest winery in the region.

DIVINO is a community that lives on the enthusiasm for Franconian wines. In order to pass on this enthusiasm, the team combines tried and tested methods with modern approaches. Year after year, the winegrower cooperative learns anew from climate, nature and terroir and adapts its cultivation rules accordingly. However, this never changes:

The wines derive from the best Franconian locations – including Escherndorfer Lump, Thüngersheimer Johannisberg, Nordheimer Vögelein and Retzbacher Benediktusberg.

DIVINO – a wine cooperative with heart and soul!
